I used to be someone who cringed at the word sexting. It literally made my face flare up as if someone had just cursed at a funeral. I didn't know what to say, I didn't know wanted to come across as too forward and I had no idea where to even start.

Our relationship had left the 'honeymoon phase' of our relationship and our love life had become stale and passionless. Our sex life began to affect our connection and the way we treated each other. I often felt that we were roommates more than anything because we were having sex maybe once a month, or on a "special occasion". Between the craziness of life and my embarrassment, we were losing touch with each other. We had entered the friend-zone.

I was desperate and I needed a way to light the fire in our souls again. I began to research on the internet about how people were spicing up their relationships, and I stumbled onto the upon sexting.

Ladies, I did my research. I spent a long time thinking about it, and then one day I just sent him a text. It was pretty sweet and innocent, but then things got heated. He came home, and we were in the bedroom like we were teenagers again! The excitement and the prolonged foreplay through messaging on the phone amped everything up. We had passionate amazing sex.

Of course, I had to tell my friends, a few of them were in the same boat I was, so they tried it out. It turns out most men really enjoy a woman who has the courage to reach out to her significant other like that. In no way do we lose respect by doing this. We're showing how much of a lioness we are and we're letting our significant other know that we want him.

There's nothing sexier than a woman with confidence! So read through this book and then find the courage to pick up your phone, you'll be so glad you did!
