Welcome to the 6th International Conference on Open Source Systems of the IFIP Working Group 2. 13. This year was the ?rst time this international conference was held in North America. We had a large number of high-quality papers, highlyrelevantpanelsandworkshops,acontinuationofthepopulardoctoralc- sortium, and multiple distinguished invited speakers. The success of OSS 2010 was only possible because an Organizing Committee, a Program Committee, Workshop and Doctoral Committees, and authors of research manuscripts from over 25 countries contributed their time and interest to OSS 2010. In the spirit of the communities we study, you self-organized, volunteered, and contributed to this important research forum studying free, libre, open source software and systems. We thank you! Despite our modest success, we have room to improve and grow our conference and community. At OSS 2010 we saw little or no participation from large portions of the world, including Latin America, Africa, China, and India. But opportunities to expand are possible. In Japan, we see a hot spot of participation led by Tetsuo Noda and his colleagues, both with full-paper submissions and a workshop on "Open Source Policy and Promotion of IT Industries in East Asia. " The location of OSS 2011 in Salvador, Brazil, will hopefully result in significant participation from researchers in Brazil - already a strong user of OSS - and other South American countries. Under the leadership of Megan Squire, Publicity Chair, we recruited Regional Publicity Co-chairs covering Japan (Tetsuo Noda), Africa (Sulayman Sowe), the Middle East and South Asia (Faheen Ahmed), Russia and Eastern Europe (Alexey Khoroshilov), Western Europe (Yeliz Eseryel), UK and Ireland (Andrea Capiluppi), and the Nordic countries (Björn Lundell).
