The Zombie Hunter's Wife (Time of Zombies Book 2) Jill James

She's withdrawn from the apocalyptic world. He's determined to help her face her fears head-on to survive the evil reverend in their midst and the undead at their gates.

Michelle Greggs had the perfect life; a loving husband, a nice home in San Francisco, and a belief in safety and security. That all ended the day the zombies rose. Against her wishes, her husband went one last day to his job as a police officer in the chaos of the Z virus epidemic. When he returned home as the undead, she was forced to kill him. With no safety and security to be had in S.F. she was evacuated to the middle of nowhere in Central California. There, she clung to the remnants of safety behind cement walls, allowing others to venture outside to do the necessary killing of the undead.

Teddy Ridgewood proclaimed himself the King of Pittsburg, population 1. To the survivors he joined, he projected an image of a fun-loving guy, thinking the zombie apocalypse was a never-ending video game. Inside, he died a little with each undead kill, still seeing the people they were.

Michelle yearned to embrace Teddy's live-for-today attitude as much as she yearned to embrace the man himself, but both things scare her more than the undead moaning outside the walls of the compound.

With danger all around them, Michelle and Teddy will have only each other to rely on in the zombie apocalypse.
