Goode on Legal Problems of Credit and Security Prof. Louise Gullifer, Heather Keating, Sally Cunningham

This Goode book gives a concise and lucid explanation of the law and regulation of credit and security. Roy Goode and Louise Gullifer are both well respected academics who offer clarity and rigorous analysis and interpretation of the legal principles behind credit and security transactions. The fundamental concepts of common law and equity as they affect secured transactions are clearly explained and the book explores how underlying principles apply to different transactions. The authors define how security can be applied as part of a credit agreement and explain key concepts such as attachment, set-off, fixed and floating charges.
