Learning the Language of the Fields: Tilling and Keeping as Christian Vocation Daniel G. Deffenbaugh Deffenbaugh calls us to “live in a reciprocal relationship” with our biotic communities—the plants, animals, and other non-human cultures that share our particular places in the world. By rerooting our global lifestyles in the ecological knowledge of our homes, we may truly begin to mend the health of our planet. Deffenbaugh marries Christian theology and spiritual disciplines with Native American mythology and the practice of organic gardening to deepen our engagement with the places in which we live.
